Cheltenham Open Studios cannot accept liability for any loss, damage or injury sustained by any member of the public visiting any exhibition or event, who do so at their own risk. Every effort has been made to ensure all times and details are correct at time of going to press.

FOREWORD

As I write this, sitting in the Spring sunshine in my garden, it feels far removed from the turmoil currently being wrought by Trump's tariffs and new world order causing a threat of global recession. But the world still turns, and artists still create with as much energy to express themselves as ever. Little that life throws up can thwart their passion to make marks or mould clay or carve wood and stone. The creative arts usually echo and eventually become synonymous with the times we travel through. The ups and downs of our lives forming a backdrop to the history of our times. I know that this year's coming together of over two hundred artists will form an exciting, eclectic and diverse bi-annual celebration that is Cheltenham Open Studios. A myriad of makers will share the bountiful fruits of their labours and enable us to learn a little more about that magical creative process. It is a great privilege to be able to get up close and personal in their intimate spaces with this brilliant collective of artists and makers and a rare opportunity to acquire an original art work made here in and around Cheltenham.

Dr PJ Crook MBE RWA FRSA, Patron Cheltenham Open Studios

Summer 2025 is an exciting time for Cheltenham Open Studios and our participating artists.

All our artists are relishing the unique opportunity to show and discuss their work, enthusiastically welcoming friends and members of the public to their homes, galleries and studios. With 25 new venues and over 200 artists exhibiting work, COS 2025 promises to be a bumper year!

The Gloucestershire University graduates are at Park Campus, PGCE students and course leaders in art and design are in The Chapel and alumni and staff are exhibiting in the Quad Walk Gallery, plus the Gardens Gallery, venue 1, is again welcoming visitors to the hugely popular COS taster show.

We welcome the return of The Wilson Art Gallery and Museum to COS as they provide the opportunity for participants in the innovative artists in residence programme to exhibit their work.

Our IT presence has been upgraded, the COS website continues to be developed, and an interactive map of venues is still a major focus. Hopefully you will find that these continued improvements will help people access the trail in a variety of ways.

Please find the time to visit as many venues as you can in order to make COS25 a triumphant success!

How to navigate the Trail

Guidebooks

If you are reading this, you have already found one. Guidebooks are distributed locally through various media outlets, local businesses, and participating venues.

As well as the map at the back of this book, you can dive deeper into the trail via:

Our interactive online map

Scan the QR code, at the bottom of the page, with the camera on your phone, click on a venue, and you can read more about the work of the artist/s participating. Google maps will then guide you to the open door of the next venue on the trail.

Look out for our TASTER SHOW at Gardens Gallery (venue 1)

View a cross-section of the work on show on this year's trail, all under one roof.

COS Fundraisers

5x5's for £10: Support COS and get an original art bargain

Our hugely popular fundraiser for COS is a great value-for-money way to buy a piece of original art. 5x5's will be for sale at Gardens Gallery (venue 1)

Help us make more noise!

If you enjoy the event and value it as a crucial part of the ecology of the visual arts in Cheltenham, then you can also help us shout about COS by making a contribution. The more money we raise, the louder our collective voice.

How did you hear about COS? For many, COS is still one of Cheltenham's best kept secrets. Help us let everyone in on it.
